Career education options at community colleges in Riverside and San Bernardino counties

WELCOME!

We are the Inland Empire/Desert Regional Consortium (IEDRC), a regional framework that helps promote and improve career education at 12 affordable community colleges in Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The California Community College system of 116 colleges is the nation's largest workforce training provider, educating about 2 million students a year. In other words, we educate and train students for the careers of today and tomorrow. The colleges help career education students learn the necessary skills to transition into high-quality jobs and careers or advance into better-paying jobs. The Inland Empire/Desert region's industries and employers have an ongoing need for well-trained and skilled employees to hire for high-paying jobs.

ABOUT THIS BOOKLET

On the following pages, you'll explore dozens of career education programs and areas of study that the Inland Empire/Desert region's 12 community colleges offer. These programs and their courses are designed to educate and train students for high-quality jobs that are in demand in Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Each page features areas of study our colleges offer. Once you find the area of study you're interested in, determine which colleges offer associate degrees and certificates in that area.

Once you've decided the college and program of your choice, your next step is to apply to and enroll at that college. College contact information and websites can be found toward the back of this publication.

Please feel free to explore and discover the affordable community college career education programs that draw your interest. Look no further to explore your college education and prepare for your career.

WHY COMMUNITY COLLEGE?

Community colleges reflect the local communities they serve. They have open-door policies that welcome everyone who is eager to learn.

People who earn an associate degree from a community college earn about $11,000 more annually than people with only a high school diploma. It's never too late to earn an associate degree at any of the 12 Inland Empire/Desert community colleges.

The community colleges coordinate with employers in the region to develop hands-on instruction and education to prepare students to land in-demand, high-paying jobs and careers. That means the colleges' career education programs give you a competitive edge as a jobseeker.

Whether you are entering college for the first time or are a returning student looking to reskill or upskill, our 12 community colleges are ready to help you achieve your academic success!
